

Light and Truth

שְׁלַח-אוֹרְךָ וְאִמְתְּךָ

Send forth Your light and Your truth. (Psalm 43:3)

Each of us is called to shine our own unique light and to find a way to express the truth that may lie buried in us. The world depends on our willingness to become radiant, and to speak our truth. Sometimes, I experience just a glimmer of that truth, and I must follow that glimmer wherever it may lead. It takes courage and faith to live it and to express it in ways that not everyone will understand.
