

Your Strength

Your God commands your strength,

It is the Divine power, which You have placed in us. (Psalm 68:29)

Life tests us, giving us challenges that send us to our deepest resource, which is the Source within. We are each called to find our strength, and to realize that our truest and most trustworthy strength is the power of God that is within us. In finding that strength, we are humbled, and connected to a power that is beyond the small separate self.
